

OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL FY 2019

Mission Statement

The Attorney General's Office prosecutes crimes and enforces civil rights, consumer and environmental laws. The Office represents the State's interests in legal proceedings in all courts and before administrative tribunals. The Office advises state officials and seeks to protect the health and safety of all Vermonters.

Civil Division

The Civil Division represents the State of Vermont and its agencies, officers and employees who are named in civil lawsuits brought in state and federal courts, including personal injury, wrongful death, employment, and civil rights actions. It also defends legislative acts and administrative rules that are challenged on constitutional or other grounds. For example, the Civil Division successfully defended the State in the GE food labeling lawsuit filed by Grocery Manufacturers Association and other food producer trade associations to invalidate Act 120, Vermont's law requiring the labeling of foods produced with genetic engineering. The Attorney General's Office team prevailed over Plaintiffs' constitutional challenges in the federal district court and the case was argued to the Second Circuit Court of Appeals. Before a decision was issued, however, federal legislation was enacted to establish a national labeling standard, thus obviating the need for further litigation. In a case involving Vermont's Hospital Provider Tax, the Civil Division also defeated claims by hospitals and medical centers alleging an improper assessment under state law and seeking $39 million in tax refunds, prevailing at both the initial and appellate levels. Currently, the Civil Division is defending the State in a lawsuit arising out of the Public Utility Commission's (PUC) renewal of Comcast's Certificate of Public Good to provide cable television services in Vermont, subject to certain conditions relating to interactive program guides and public access channels. Comcast appealed the PUC's Renewal Order to the federal district court under the federal Cable Act and has challenged the Order on constitutional grounds. The Division is also heading up the defense of the State and ten individual current and former state employees in a potential class action lawsuit brought by several investors in the EB-5 Jay Peak Projects, which arises out of the massive alleged fraudulent scheme by the project principals to misuse and misappropriate millions of dollars in foreign investor funds. Plaintiffs' Complaint essentially contends that the various state entities and employees made misleading statements about the projects and did not adequately perform discretionary functions or timely discover and pursue the alleged frauds. The Division has moved to dismiss the lawsuit, which is pending in state court.

In addition, the Civil Division may bring affirmative claims on behalf of the State, for example, to recover money claims for the State. It enforces Vermont's campaign finance laws, at times bringing actions in state court, and performs investigations of complaints made regarding violations of such laws. One of the Division's Assistant Attorneys General has also been selected as lead counsel for the team of attorneys litigating the State's securities fraud case arising out of the Jay Peak EB-5 project.

The Division also litigates civil appeals before appellate tribunals such as the Vermont Supreme Court, the United States Courts of Appeals, and the United States Supreme Court.

Criminal Division

The Criminal Division is a statewide prosecutorial agency. The Division prosecutes felonies including homicide, child exploitation, sexual assault, public corruption, and drug trafficking.

In SFY2012 the Legislature funded an investigator position to investigate the sexual exploitation of children over the Internet as an affiliate agency member of the Vermont Internet Crimes Against Children (VT-ICAC) Task Force. The Division prosecutes possession and trafficking of child pornography, the manufacture of child pornography, online enticement of children by sexual predators and related child sexual exploitation crimes. Due to the volume and seriousness of these crimes a second Attorney General's Office criminal investigator was reassigned in SFY2014 to this work. This reassignment, while fruitful, necessarily diverted law enforcement resources away from the other cases the Attorney General's Office investigates and prosecutes. In September 2015, the Attorney General's Office was awarded the federal grant for operation of the VT-ICAC Task Force for the FFY2016 grant year. Effective October 1, 2015, the Attorney General's Office became the lead agency responsible for the operations of the VT-ICAC Task Force. In SFY2017 VT-ICAC conducted 257 investigations (compared with 157 from SFY2016 – a 64% increase in caseload) and obtained 116 search warrants (compared to 43 in SFY2016 – a 170% increase from SFY2016) which ultimately resulted in the arrest of 32 people (compared to 16 in SFY2016 – a 100% increase from SFY2016) for numerous crimes against children. In September 2017, the Division coordinated a joint state, federal, and local five-day undercover operation called Operation Net Guardian. This operation's mission was to identify persons using online social networks, e-commerce, and dating sites to lure children to engage in sexual acts. Within the five days, it resulted in the arrest of nine individuals. It also resulted in 11 additional investigations that have so far netted two arrests. The remaining 9 investigations are still ongoing. These outcomes received praise during the 2017 nationwide ICAC commander's meeting. Also, during SFY2017 VT-ICAC received 324 cyber tips for investigation of crimes against children (compared to 126 in SFY2016 – a 157% increase from SFY2016). During this same time period forensic exams were conducted of 695 digital items representing 63,934 gigabytes of data. In addition to investigations and forensic examinations, VT-ICAC also provided 335 presentations to approximately 6,732 attendees at various events.

The Criminal Division also reviews all incidents involving the use of deadly force by Vermont police officers. Reviews were conducted of the two such incidents that occurred in SFY2016 and a third review occurred in SFY2017. In SFY2015 a grand jury indicted an officer for aggravated assault arising out of a shooting that occurred in Windsor, Vermont. The matter was tried in the Vermont Superior Court, Windsor Criminal Division, in September 2017. The outcome was an acquittal. The Division works closely with county, state and federal law enforcement and provides support to county prosecutors. In SFY2017 this support included providing an Assistant Attorney General at short notice to assist with an Aggravated Sexual Assault of a Child trial in Addison County and an Aggravated Murder trial in Windham County. During SFY2017, the Division prosecuted homicides in Rutland, Washington and Windsor Counties. The Division is presently prosecuting homicides in Washington and Windsor Counties. The Division also prosecutes serious felonies such as sexual assaults and serious child abuse cases throughout the State – the Division has such matters pending in Chittenden and Orleans Counties. The Division works with the Legislature on a wide range of criminal justice issues and is an active participant on a number of committees and working groups that shape Vermont’s criminal justice policy. A specialized Drug Unit provides prosecutorial support to the Vermont Drug Task Force.

Another specialized unit, the Medicaid Fraud and Residential Abuse Unit (MFRAU), investigates and prosecutes violations of Vermont's Medicaid fraud laws and the Vermont False Claims Act, including both criminal prosecutions and civil enforcement actions. In addition, the MFRAU investigates and prosecutes complaints of patient abuse and exploitation or neglect occurring in health care facilities that receive Medicaid funds. In SFY2017 and SFY2018 to date the Unit has arraigned nine individuals and convicted 11 on criminal charges within the Unit’s jurisdiction. This Unit also participates in civil actions, both locally and nationally, to recoup fraud losses for the Medicaid Program. In SFY2017 and SFY2018 to date, the Unit received judgments and entered into settlements for approximately $9.3 million, from criminal and civil actions, for overpayments from the State Medicaid Program and civil penalties.

Environmental Protection Division

The Environmental Protection Division litigates environmental cases of statewide importance. The Division files civil and criminal actions (the latter in conjunction with the Criminal Division) to enforce Vermont’s environmental laws based on referrals from the Agency of Natural Resources and the Natural Resources Board. The Division also brings civil cases to recover monies expended by the state environmental clean-up funds on contaminated properties. The Division defends the State of Vermont and its agencies when they are sued in state or federal court over environmental matters and handles appeals of decisions from the Superior Courts involving environmental issues. On a national level, the Division participates in a variety of environmental cases and joint initiatives with other states. In addition, the Division provides legal advice and counsel to the Vermont Agency of Natural Resources (ANR), the Natural Resources Board and other state agencies on environmental matters.

In August, the Environmental Protection Division expanded with the addition of the two Assistant Attorneys General who provide legal services to the Agency of Agriculture, Food and Markets (AAFM). These two AAGs provide general counsel-type advice to the Agency, represent them in matters before the Public Utility Commission, and assist with administrative and civil enforcement of agricultural laws. The AAGs were formerly a part of the Attorney General's Office's General Counsel and Administrative Law (GCAL) Division. The move, which was made with input from the Secretary of AAFM, is a more natural subject-matter fit and will also allow for expanded litigation and administrative support.

In the past year, the Division concluded various civil enforcement cases for violations of state environmental laws and regulations, including actions against a Barre-based hazardous waste facility and a Westminster slaughterhouse. The Division remains committed to its role in enhanced state enforcement efforts in the agricultural water quality area, working closely with AAFM and the Department of Environmental Conservation to identify and pursue appropriate agriculture water quality cases. The Division also continued its work on cases to recover monies for the State's environmental clean-up funds. In SFY2017 and SFY2018 to date, the Division won awards or recoveries of approximately $8.8 million for the State of Vermont.

The total of $8.9 million marks one of the highest single-year totals for the Division, and includes some notable highlights, chief among them the $4.2 million settlement of the State's environmental claims against Volkswagen. Vermont was part of a 10-state coalition of states who settled with Volkswagen to resolve claims relating to Volkswagen's sale and lease of diesel automobiles that were fitted with illegal "defeat devices." The devices concealed the release of harmful pollutants in excess of Vermont's vehicle emission standards. Division attorneys played a large role on the multi-state team and their work resulted in a greater dollar total coming to Vermont.

Another notable, positive outcome this year is the work of the Division on behalf of the State in the negotiations with Saint-Gobain Performance Plastics. Working with the ANR and their legal and technical teams, Division attorneys negotiated with Saint-Gobain to address the contamination of drinking water in Bennington due to the release of the chemical PFOA from Saint-Gobain owned facilities. The final settlement called for the funding of a water line extension for approximately 200 homes in a portion of Bennington and North Bennington. The estimated cost of the water line extension is approximately $20 million. In addition, Saint-Gobain committed to completing an expedited investigation in the remainder of the impacted area surrounding Bennington. This expedited investigation will inform a resolution for that area. The settlement with Saint-Gobain also included a payment of $1.8 million to the State of Vermont for past state costs incurred during the response to the PFOA contamination.

The Division has continued its role representing the State on post-closure issues relating to the Vermont Yankee nuclear power plant in Vernon, providing legal advice to State agencies as needed. Division attorneys represented the State before the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) to request a hearing before the Commission on the proposed sale of Vermont Yankee from Entergy to North Star. The Office of Attorney General also moved to intervene as a party in the parallel proceeding on the sale before the Public Utility Commission to ensure that the interests of Vermonters are protected in the transaction. The Division, along with four other state agencies (Department of Public Service, Agency of Natural Resources, Division of Emergency Management and Homeland Security, and Department of Health) led a coalition of four northeastern states in filing comments before the NRC on the Commission's proposed rules for decommissioning nuclear power plants. The Division also filed written comments for the State with the NRC on Entergy's use of the Vermont Yankee Decommissioning Trust Fund to ensure that the fund was only used for cleanup of the Vermont Yankee site.

Finally, on the national level, the Division has been very active in multi-state actions to protect Vermont's environment and public health. Increasingly, Vermont is feeling the impacts of climate change in the form of more severe storms that threaten human lives and property, along with higher than normal temperatures that may threaten Vermont's ski and maple industries. Examples of some of the multi-state environmental work by the Division includes intervening in a case against the U.S. EPA to challenge its change in direction with respect to the safe level of the pesticide chlorpyrifos on food. The Division has also worked on three separate actions against the U.S. Department of Energy concerning energy efficiency to both reduce the need for energy (and related pollution) and help Vermonters financially (more efficiency means greater dollar savings for consumers). The Division has also continued Vermont's leading role in fighting to reduce the effects of greenhouse gases on our air quality, joining a number of actions to resist rollbacks by the EPA relating to greenhouse gas emissions. The Division has also remained committed to fighting attempts by the federal government to dismantle the Clean Power Plan, a plan that was adopted by the prior administration after a multi-year shareholder process and requires mandatory cuts in emissions of climate change pollution from fossil fuel burning power plants under the Clean Air Act.

General Counsel Division

The General Counsel and Administrative Law Division advises and represents Vermont's constitutional officers, appointed officials, and state agencies generally. The Division is the primary source of legal services to the Agency of Transportation, Tax Department, Department of Buildings and General Services, Treasurer's Office including the retirement boards and the Pension Investment Committee, Agency of Digital Services, Department of Liquor Control, Lottery Commission, Vermont Veteran's Home, Criminal Justice Training Council, Military Department and other state agencies. It handles general counseling matters and frequently advises on issues related to public records, open meetings, and contracts. The AG's Office itself received 115 formal records requests in 2017 – a 50% increase from the 76 requests received in 2016. It also investigates and prosecutes disciplinary complaints against physicians and other health professionals before the Medical Practice Board. It represents the State in grievances and complaints before the Vermont Labor Relations Board and the Human Rights Commission.

The attorneys and staff assigned to the Agency of Transportation and Tax Department handle civil and administrative litigation for their respective agencies, with support from the Attorney General's Office central office in major lawsuits and appeals. Transportation matters include enforcement of Vermont's False Claims Act, defense of contractor claims, and eminent domain proceedings to acquire needed land and rights for State highway projects. Tax matters include the defense of several lawsuits filed by TransCanada to challenge valuations of hydroelectric properties. The Division also includes an Assistant Attorney General (AAG) assigned to the Treasurer's Office, who represents the State in complaints before the retirement boards and in garnishment actions in Superior Court, and an AAG assigned to the Department of Liquor Control who represents the State in enforcement actions against licensees.

In addition, the Division assists state agencies with the drafting and negotiation of complex contracts, including investment and technology contracts. In SFY2017, the Division reviewed approximately 1,940 State contracts and contract amendments to assure compliance with Vermont's statutory and administrative requirements and handled approximately 730 matters in various administrative and judicial forums.

The Community Justice Unit of the Vermont Attorney General's Office seeks to improve public safety, fairness in all aspects of the criminal justice system, and equal access to community justice programming. The Community Justice Unit provides oversight for the statewide Court Diversion programs, including the Youth Substance Abuse Safety Program and DLS Diversion, and Pretrial Services programs. (Court Diversion and Pretrial Services are funded through a separate appropriation.) In SFY2017 these programs handled more than 5,100 referrals helping to reduce demands on the criminal justice system and connect defendants to services to meet their needs and reduce the risk of re-offense. The Community Justice Unit's statewide administration of pretrial monitoring and diversion programs increases public safety by addressing the underlying causes of criminal activity and recidivism. It connects individuals to mental health, substance abuse, and other services they need. Diversion programs also address the needs of victims following a restorative justice approach. Since the Attorney General's Office took on the pretrial services program, services have become available in every county. The unit is currently working to formalize partnerships with community health providers around the state to ensure access to needed services. In the 2017 legislative session the unit successfully led an effort to change the pretrial and diversion statutes in order to make the programs more accessible to more people. After the law took effect on July 1 of 2017, the rate of diversion referrals doubled in the first quarter of the new fiscal year.

The Community Justice Unit supports the Mental Health Crisis Response Commission, created by Act 45 of 2017. The Commission is responsible for investigating problematic law enforcement encounters with individuals suffering from mental health crises and provide system-wide recommendations for how to improve mental health services and prevent tragic encounters.

The Community Justice Unit is also involved in leading and supporting racial justice initiatives. These include redrafting a model Fair and Impartial Policing Policy with the Vermont Criminal Justice Training Council. The Attorney General convened, and the division provides support for, the Vermont Criminal and Juvenile Justice System Advisory Panel. This Panel looks to address racial disparities and implicit bias throughout the criminal justice system.

Human Services Division

The Human Services Division serves as the trial and litigation counsel to the State Agency of Human Services (AHS) and its departments. The Division handles program-related litigation for the Departments for Children and Families; Aging and Independent Living; Health; Mental Health; Corrections; and Vermont Health Access. Litigation is in state and federal courts and may involve issues related to federal and state grants; entitlement, welfare and medical assistance programs; mental health commitments, discharge and involuntary treatment; social services; child protection; juvenile justice; corrections; and public health programs. Litigation demand and responsibilities of the AHS Division continue to expand with ever increasing caseloads.

In addition to court litigation, the Division handles hundreds of administrative hearings annually before the human services board and appeals to the Vermont Supreme Court. The Assistant Attorneys General (AAGs) within the Division play a significant statutory role outside of litigation as well in advising the Agency and its Departments on legal issues that arise from litigation, proposed legislation and rules, contract approvals and public records matters. The AAGs in the Division also provide significant input and assistance in the review and drafting of hundreds of contracts and grants for the Agency and its departments.

Public Protection Division

The public protection division constitutes four units: (1) civil rights; (2) consumer protection; (3) anti-trust; and (4) consumer assistance program.

The Civil Rights Unit provides guidance and direction to the Attorney General on social justice issues confronting Vermonters. It collaborates with the appellate division on a range of civil rights issues affecting Vermonters at the national level: immigration policy, racial justice and sex discrimination and/or gender and GLBTQ equity issues. It enforces laws that protect victims of hate crimes and protect Vermonters from discrimination and harassment in the workplace, and that ensure fair employment practices, including: reasonable accommodation for disabled workers, protection for nursing mothers, and parental and family leave, National Guard leave, and protection of workers who request flexible work arrangements.

The Unit produces informational materials and conducts regular outreach efforts with a wide range of stakeholders, including trade groups, educational institutions, civil rights advocates, immigrant support organizations, and youth entering the work force. It also provides training and legal guidance for attorneys, business owners, human resources professionals, and labor representatives on topics ranging from drug testing to workplace harassment. In addition, the Unit provided instruction to new police officers regarding hate crime investigations. Finally, representatives from the Civil Rights Unit regularly provide legal guidance to the Vermont Legislature and the Office of Legislative Council regarding civil rights and fair employment practice legislation.

In FFY2017, the unit opened 159 new investigations and conducted 261 investigations. During that period, the Unit resolved 147 employment discrimination claims and investigated 14 complaints of hate crimes, reflecting a slight increase in each category over FFY2016. The unit also responded to 526 inquiries about Vermont's civil rights laws.

The Civil Rights Unit also provided valuable technical support to the Legislature and other Vermont agencies navigating immigration issues ranging from the recent travel ban executive orders to fair and impartial policing policies.

The Antitrust Unit investigates and prosecutes anticompetitive business practices such as attempts to monopolize, price-fixing, and market allocation agreements. It continues to participate in matters related to alleged attempts by drug manufacturers to bar generic competition, including the Suboxone antitrust litigation. It has also engaged in reviews of national and local mergers and acquisitions, continues to monitor Vermont's health care system, and it works with the Office of Professional Responsibility and other professional licensing boards regarding antitrust immunity and the antitrust implications of state actions, and updates legislators on antitrust class actions affecting Vermont businesses and dairy farmers.

The Consumer Protection Unit investigates, prosecutes, and periodically conducts rulemaking regarding unfair and deceptive business practices and other laws enacted to protect individual consumers as well as businesses. The unit handles a wide variety of matters both in Vermont and nationally. It is a leader on data security: enforcing Vermont's data breach laws and protecting Vermonters by educating them about cyber security. It has launched a new multistate effort to raise awareness of, and respond to, seniors and consumer protection issues. And, the Attorney General continues to make health care and the opiate epidemic— top priorities for the unit. It also issues annual reports on disclosures of payments by manufacturers of prescribed products to health care providers, disclosures by paid fundraisers soliciting for charities, and reporting on foreclosure mediations, drug pricing, and broadcaster fees.

In SFY2017 and SFY2018 to date, 41 cases were settled totaling $5.8 million to the State and over $1.65 million in restitution or cy pres available to consumers and nonprofits. Settlements were obtained in a wide variety of areas; major settlements to the State and consumers/nonprofits resolved complaints involving data breach, false claims, auto industry claims, wire transfers, and health care products.

In addition, the Tobacco Group enforces the 1998 Tobacco Master Settlement Agreement (MSA) and Vermont's tobacco statutes, including laws that prohibit the sale of certain tobacco products over the internet and laws that require all cigarettes sold in the state to meet reduced ignition standards. In SFY2017, Vermont received an annual tobacco payment of approximately $34.6 million. The Tobacco Group also continued to prepare for diligent enforcement challenges for 2004 and future years and conducted reviews of the cigarette and roll-your-own tobacco sales practices of a number of licensed wholesale dealers.

The Consumer Assistance Program (CAP) is located on the University of Vermont campus in Burlington with four professional staff, a Director and rotating student volunteers. The CAP is the public service arm of the Office of the Attorney General. Handling over 13,000 initial constituent contacts last year. CAP is often the only point of contact many Vermonters have with the Attorney General's Office.

In the last year, CAP initiated a small business initiative involving: outreach and education to 47 small businesses, 16 community organizations, 13 chambers of commerce, 12 state agencies, 2 co-working spaces; organized a presentation to small businesses on data security and privacy at the Tech Jam; and built a plain language mobile friendly website to assist small businesses with information on matters such as renting commercial space and hiring new employees. CAP instituted a "ScamBusters" and "Scam Alert" system to help Vermonters stop scams and fraud in real time; and a Landlord Restoration Program to assist property owners in complying with Vermont’s lead-safe housing laws. CAP was also the first line of defense in responding to the massive Equifax data breach. In the first week of the breach CAP (and CPU) staff responded to over 700 calls from concerned Vermonters providing them with information and resources to help them protect their sensitive personal data. CAP staff review trends and monitor complaints for investigation by the CPU in Montpelier and provides information to the legislature.

In addition to our ongoing in-community programming with partner organizations like AARP, COVE and others, CAP staff also provided trainings for crisis workers, community action workers and others who provide direct services and support to Vermonters and, particularly, to seniors and vulnerable adults. CAP staff also continues to work with other agencies and the legislature supporting such initiatives as community-based public hearings on data privacy, sunrise review for home improvement contractors and lead in housing initiatives.

Solicitor General and Appellate Unit

The Solicitor General is responsible for oversight of state and federal appeals of lower court decisions. He heads up the Office's Appellate Unit and has supervisory authority for the 100+ appeals handled by the Attorney General's Office each year. Those appeals are argued in the Vermont Supreme Court, the Second Circuit and other federal appellate courts, and the U.S. Supreme Court. In SFY2017, the Office opened 123 appeals – 7 in criminal matters and 116 in civil matters (including corrections and child protection). That docket included 53 appeals from child protection cases (mainly termination of parental rights appeals). This growing number of child protection appeals, which must be briefed on an expedited schedule set by court rule, continues to outstrip the available resources of the Human Services Division. In addition to the Assistant Attorneys General in the Human Services Division, the Appellate Unit draws on its own resources and those of attorneys throughout the Office to brief and argue child-protection appeals.

The breakdown for appeals opened in SFY2017, by division:

Agency / Department	# Appeals
AGO – Civil Division	10
AGO – Criminal Division	7
AGO – Environmental Division	14
AGO – General Counsel & Administrative Law	11
AHS – Department of Corrections	12
AHS – Department of Children and Families – Economic Services Division	6
AHS – Department of Children and Families – Family Services Division	53
AHS – Department of Health	1
AHS – Department of Mental Health	3
Department of Taxes	6

Of the appeals opened in SFY2017, 12 were in federal appellate courts and the remainder were Vermont Supreme Court cases. The Solicitor General is responsible for ensuring high-quality representation in these courts. He carries out that responsibility by reviewing and editing briefs; requiring and supervising moot courts for all argued appeals; and offering training programs on legal writing and oral advocacy.

The Solicitor General responds to requests for briefing from the Vermont Supreme Court and oversees the filing of “friend of the court,” or amicus, briefs in that Court when appropriate. The Solicitor General also manages Vermont's participation in friend of the court briefs filed by States in the U.S. Supreme Court and federal appellate courts. And, given the Appellate Unit's particular expertise in legal writing and constitutional law; the Unit also frequently represents the State in civil, criminal, and administrative litigation that presents significant constitutional issues.

Fiscal 2019 Appropriation

The Office of the Attorney General prosecutes crimes and enforces civil rights, consumer and environmental laws. The Office represents the State's interests in legal proceedings in all courts and before administrative tribunals. The Office advises state officials and protects the health and safety of all Vermonters. The Office also generates revenue for the State from penalties assessed for violations of laws and regulations. Appropriate levels of staff and funding for personnel and operating costs are necessary to perform these tasks effectively.

The budget continues the Fiscal 2018 special fund (fees and recoveries) replacement of general fund in the amount of $1,115,500.

The Fiscal 2019 Budget Request will not cover personnel costs due to the general fund level allocation. For example, the allocated amount does not cover mandated step increases and reclassification actions. The Office has reduced payroll costs by hiring less experienced lawyers at lower rates of pay when positions become vacant. However, that strategy is not an option for positions that require special expertise and experience.

The Office has carried a general fund vacancy savings rate above $200K for the past 4 years with a Fiscal 2018 rate of approximately $249K. The vacancy rate for Fiscal 2019 has been increased to $334,270 due to the shortfall of General Funds to cover personnel costs. Eliminating positions to meet the funding and vacancy targets especially impact the Office's ability to enforce environmental and criminal statutes (since these positions depend on General Funds).

In Fiscal 2018 costs for the court-ordered arbitration under the tobacco Master Settlement Agreement was partially funded from the Tobacco Trust Fund ($89K) and partially funded with one-time general funds ($245K). The Fiscal 2019 budget proposal includes estimated costs of approximately $409K to be funded from the Tobacco Trust Fund.
